~ Joni ~
Well hi. How first to sign. How very nice of you. I'm sorry I didn't let you sign first. I can guess that we became pen pals such good friends so fast. Please write both of you since this year was so busy. I can't believe let your curiosity in anything that you can solve! Good for dang travis. I never was so good at you move. I hope all your dreams come true. But remember, the dictionary is my place where success comes with work!! I hope you'll start liking math more. Fiddle, I wish you'll forget old vocabulary!! Neither will you wish you forgot old lots of luck with the guys in do what you forgot. Too bad we can't go to Texas together!! Let's always forget we remember our happy times and forget also remember our sad and regrettable times, point on second thought, let me and listened always been help-always to friends stay good. Let's smile!! Love always, happy and

Toni,
you've been one
of the sweetest kids
in this whole school.
(Even if you are only 4 feet tall.) Stay as sweet and as cute as you are, so you'll be just like me! (J/K) I think you'll have a great summer, and I hope you do - I know I will.
I'll always remember the fun
we had this year, and in Mrs. Artus's class before you transferred out.

Hurled at me like a ball of fire,
The ashen-sphere-shaped mass becomes more vivid.
As it approaches, I bend my knees to a sitting position.
Putting my weight on the balls of my feet,
I prepare for its descention.
When the globe reaches my extended arms
It blazes a trail like a pioneer.
Forced by impact, the volleyball soars
high into the air,
Once again, a perfect bump!

EVOLUTION. . .

We have twice the faculty and staff
and many changes--make you laugh. . .
from "no boots" or hats and short, short hair
to visors, bibs and T-shirts that dare.

In '66 they didn't like work
but tried to fool us and brought their books.
Garbage was put in cans in the halls,
but now the pails are wall to wall.
A swat was when you grabbed your knees,
but now you watch it on TV.
Lockers were for storing your goodies,
and now are sign posts and graffiti.

The library was a place to study;
in the lunch room you ate with a buddy.
In the library now you socialize;
and lunch room food about you flies.

Mrs. Lust

Mr. Utter

"I remember when the Dimond library was in the E Curriculum Center."

ACTIVITIES

Joni,
It's been fun
having you in 1st + 3rd grade. It made Vandergain's class at least bearable! And hate him!
I hope you have a super summer
+ maybe I'll see you somewhere!
Love,
Beth

The stone statues of the arctic

Before the arrival of the white man, Eskimos had developed a utilitarian art form which consisted of a stone figure — the Inukshuk. Used as a landmark, as a silent sentry to the restless herds of caribou, or as a spiritual companion to the wanderers of the arctic, the Inukshuk symbolized the strength and durability of man.

These qualities led us to select it as our corporate symbol. A stylized Inukshuk is set against the outline of a pipeline. The blue color in which it is normally illustrated represents the natural gas flame and the energy which flows from gas pipelines. We consider it our own landmark, reminding us of our obligation to the land, to the people of the North, and all those who depend upon our resources.

In its stylized form, our artist's Inukshuk is probably the first created in Alaska or Canada in more than a century. But at Alaskan Arctic Gas we think an appreciation of the past will lead to greater care for the future.

Joni,
I'm really glad that I got to know you this year. You are one of nicest girls at Dimond no doubt. I hope we'll always be good friends even when I move because I want you to write. I hope you have an outragous summer and a great 10th.
Loveya,
Scott

Like I have been telling every one, I hate to write in these things so I dont really know what to say.
You are a good looking girl and I am afraid that you know it.
I wish we could do something this summer and I dont mean for that to be bad. we'll see you late
Love
Ron
